Hit $10,000 Per Month
With Amazon FBA
Through Online Arbitrage

This is without gambling on the product,
setting for thin margins,
or running it all yourself.

Here's what I'll be covering tonight...

1 How to select winners consistently and predictably.

- 1 How to select winners consistently and predictably.
- 2 How to source at the strongest rates possible.

- 1 How to select winners consistently and predictably.
- 2 How to source at the strongest rates possible.
- 3 How to fulfill entirely hands-free.

I'll be opening the floor for a Q&A
if you stay until the very end.

You've probably been toying with the idea of Amazon FBA as a business model.

You're actually not that far away from hitting $10,000 per month with it.

The worst approach to take
is being old school.

It includes trying to create demand out of thin air.

This means that you swim upstream.

It includes letting suppliers
eat into your margins.

This means that you
lack control over the business.

It includes handling fulfillment by yourself.

This means that you
become your own bottleneck.

Are you sure that building your own brand isn't more legitimate?*

I'm warning you not to take the risk of starting from scratch.*

Standard ecommerce defeats the whole purpose of becoming an entrepreneur.

The best approach to take is playing it smart.

It includes tapping
into existing demand.

This means that you
ride the momentum.

It includes using economies of scale to your advantage.

This means that you get access to premium margins.

It includes letting others
take care of fulfillment.

This means that you focus on the needle-moving tasks.

How does this work if everybody else
can do the same thing?

They aren't going to because they don't have the right systems in place.

Online arbitrage leverages the most efficient and effective tactics available to you.

I want you to imagine something for a second.

You wake up early in the morning and open up your laptop to check how everything's doing.

You stare at a dashboard that's sitting on yet another ten thousand dollar month.

You spend a few hours locked in and take the rest of the day for yourself.

This is literally the life that online arbitrage has created for me.

Would learning how to make this happen
be worth the next hour of your time?

Type "YES" in the chat if it would.

It all started with wanting freedom right now as opposed to retirement.

My plan to become an athlete got crushed by a career-ending injury.

One of my coworkers introduced me to the business model of Amazon FBA.

I've gone on to do nearly six figures per month with it thanks to him.

I'm now building a software for it and teaching others how to do the same.

Does this sound like something that you would do yourself?

Type "YES" in the chat if it is.

I want you to think about two people running a store.

The first one sets up in the middle of nowhere.

They hope that people manage to find them.

They sit there twiddling
their thumbs for hours on end.

They buy all of their stock
at retail prices.

They struggle to keep the business alive.

They try to run
the shop floor alone.

They end up scaring
the customers away.

Isn't there less competition
when you're far from the crowd?

This is only because there are hardly any customers.

Failure is inevitable when your strategy has so many flaws.

The second one sets up in a busy shopping mall.

They let the customers
come to them.

They end up with the upper hand.

They sit between
all of their suppliers.

They keep their costs to a minimum.

They don't allow themselves to get distracted.

They run the whole thing
with a sense of elegance.

What's the point in being surrounded by a bunch of other shops just like mine?

There's always room for one more if you're going about it correctly.

Success is the result of a bulletproof strategy.

It comes down to the three pillars that you're about to learn.

Type "YES" in the chat if you're ready.

Pillar One:

How to spot winners consistently and predictability.

It all starts with knowing what's worth it from the get go.

You want to choose the ones that people already want.

This is how you know for certain that it's actually going to print.

You want to go after it if there are many buyers and few sellers.

The gap between the two is where the winners are hiding.

You want to validate every pick with data first.

Every single choice must have stemmed from a calculation.

It took one of my students named JJ to $25,000 per month in their first 75 days.

Is all of this making sense so far?

Type "YES" in the chat if it is.

Pillar Two:

How to source at the strongest rates possible.

This is where you get the best margins in the game.*

You want to make sure that there is a diminishing marginal cost.

This is how your costs
remain as low as possible.

You want to avoid anything that is typically overpriced.

This determines if you're profitable or unprofitable.

You want to be getting it all directly from the supplier.

This is what provides you with the breathing room required.

It took one of my students named Goose to $11,000 per month in the early stages.

Beating the ungating barrier. Really excited for the future

Are you still with me?

Type "YES" in the chat if you are.

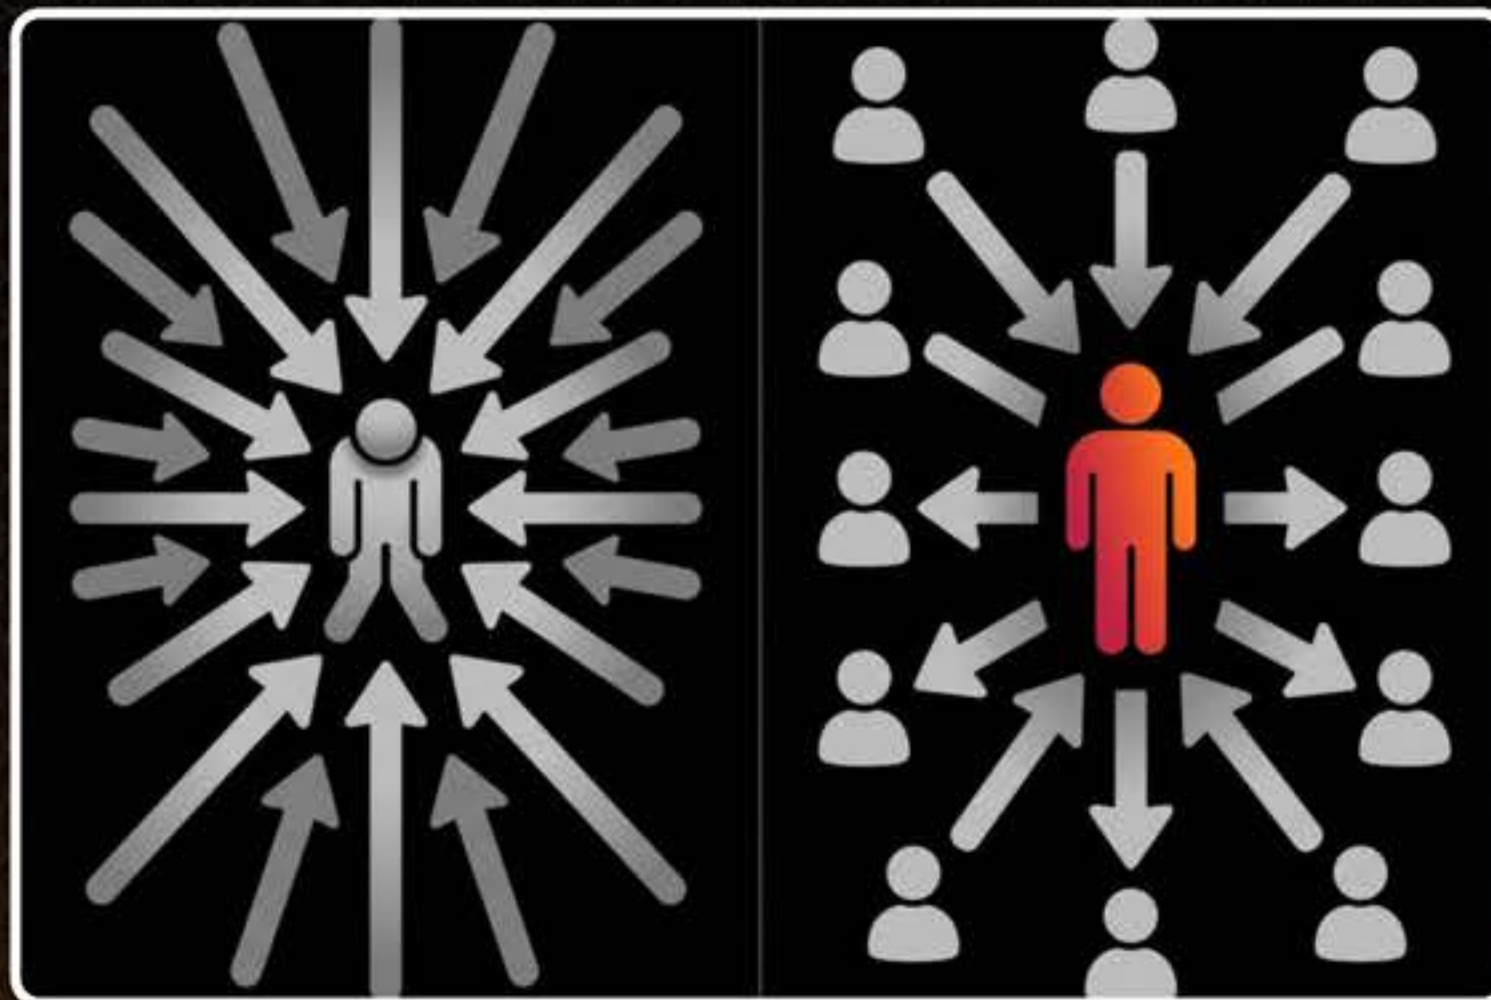

Pillar Three:

How to fulfill entirely hands-free.

These are the building blocks
of the whole thing.

You want to let others
take care of this.

The alternative is it depending on you.

You want the packing, picking, and shipping off your plate as soon as possible.

This is what frees up your capacity for the revenue-generating activities.

You want to build all of this with your own removal in mind.

All of your effort and sacrifice will compound over a long period of time.

It took one my students named Zack to four-figure days throughout a month.

Does all of this check out?

Type "YES" in the chat if it does.

Do you feel like you understand how online arbitrage works now?

Can you see yourself making this happen?*

Do you agree that this free live masterclass has done a great job at explaining it all?

There are three paths
that you can take from here...

The first is doing nothing.

You carry on being old school.

The second is doing this on your own.

You embark on a difficult and long-winded journey.

The third is doing it together.

You skip straight past
all of the guesswork.

I was stuck on the first two paths
for the longest time.

I've built out the third one so that you don't have to do the same.

Introducing 2 Nice Profits.

I work with you to undergo a crystal clear transformation.
